

Art After Dark

Art and Food at the Museum!

Art After Dark returns to the SLO Railroad Museum on February 2nd with a new theme: Come for the art...stay for the food. The Museum is partnering with its neighboring restaurants to offer tempting platters of appetizers and samples from Bon Temps Creole Café, Café Roma, Del Monte, Sally Loo's Wholesome Café, and My Thai restaurants. Make the Railroad Historic District your destination for an exciting evening that will please the eye and the palate.

The Museum will host "Railroads and Art" featuring painters, photographers, video installations along with the incredible museum-quality model railroad that is becoming an "art piece" in and of itself. Admission to the entire Museum on this special evening will be free. Everyone is encouraged to enjoy the 1894 Southern Pacific Freighthouse that has become the home of the SLO Railroad Museum.
