WHEN: Friday, July 7 from 6-9 PM (admission is free)
WHERE: San Luis Obispo Railroad Museum, 1940 Santa Barbara Ave, SLO (Free parking)

Art After Dark has a new venue in SLO. Join us Friday July 7th, from 6-9 PM at the San Luis Obispo Railroad Museum to see some of SLO's finest artists capture the romance and thrill of railroading.

Located in the Railroad Historic District—just a 10-minute walk from downtown—the Museum will host “Railroads and Art.” Among the painters are Rod Aszman, Glen Matteson, Ray Spencer and Joan Sullivan. Photos by rail photographers Bonnie Adams, Jamie Foster, Rich Hansen and David Weisman will also be on display inside the museum and on our lighted exterior platform.

The SLO Railroad Museum has ample free parking! One suggestion is for patrons to begin their visit by parking at museum, taking in the railroad art, and then strolling downtown to the other venues. Make the Railroad Historic District your first “station stop” of the evening.

Admission to the entire Museum on this special evening will be free and light refreshments will be provided. Everyone is encouraged to enjoy the 1894 Southern Pacific Freighthouse that has become the home of the SLO Railroad Museum. The address is: 1940 Santa Barbara Ave. San Luis Obispo.
